IT AND TELECOM EXECUTIVE TO LEAD DIGITAL DEFENSE'S GLOBAL SALES EXPANSION

San Antonio, TX – April 13, 2009 – Digital Defense, Inc. (DDI) a provider of information security assessment services and Software as a Service (SaaS) security compliance solutions, today announced the appointment of Gregory Marzullo as Executive Vice President of Sales. Marzullo will be responsible for strategic planning and execution of DDI's sales endeavors as well as further cultivating existing client and business partner relationships and developing new ones. In addition, he is a member of the Executive Management Team, which defines and ensures execution of DDI's business strategies.

As an experienced executive, Marzullo brings more than 20 years of solutions experience and subject matter expertise to Digital Defense.

"We are delighted to bring someone of Greg's caliber, with his insight and skills, on board to round out our team," explained Larry R. Hurtado, president and CEO of Digital Defense. "He has demonstrated success in his previous positions and we fully expect that trend to continue as he accelerates our sales efforts globally and into new vertical markets. As we continue to expand our information security assessment services and further enhance our SaaS-based security compliance management platforms, Greg will be integral in building Digital Defense's momentum towards greater market share and leadership in the industry. His guidance will certainly take Digital Defense to the next level of our growth as a company."

Prior to joining Digital Defense, Marzullo served at Cisco Systems in sales and business development of their WiMax product line after Cisco acquired Navini Networks where he was Executive Vice President of Global Sales. Prior to that Greg led global sales organizations at two other access technology start-ups. Greg has also held several executive positions in sales and marketing during a 10-year career at Nortel Networks. Greg started his career in operations and marketing at Bell Atlantic.

"I am extremely excited about this opportunity to help DDI expand its market share. During these challenging economic times it is more important than ever for organizations to protect their customer and intellectual property data," said Marzullo. "Information security is more important now than ever. I am proud to be part of an organization that is committed to providing optimal value and cutting edge security compliance solutions and information security assessment services to its clients.”

Greg holds a Master of Business Administration from the Fuqua School of Business at Duke University and a Bachelor of Science from Virginia Tech.
